New York.—Jasper and Miss Peggy Wood have made up!

Jasper is the famous trained dog now starring in "Young America." Miss Wood is leading lady in the same show.

They fell out when each claimed the star's dressing room. Finally Jasper, who in addition to everything else is a gentleman, gave in and let

Miss Wood have the room.

Now they are the best of friends and she was the first to congratulate him the other night when he recovered a gold medal given by the Theater Club to some stage star each year as a token of genius.

The presentation was made in all seriousness by Fred Niblo, the well known comedian.

THE CUB'S ENTHUSIASM

Last week our enterprising reporter, who is too enterprising at time, brought in an item to the effect that Miss Georgia Taylor had become the mother of twins. Her mother was meant, of course. In the rush of journalism such things will happen, of course.—Hometown, Pa., Banner.

In some parts of Mexico the wild hogs which the natives call jabalis are used as watchdogs. If they are caught young and brought up with goats they will go out into the hills with the herd and fight coyotes or other wild animals; if they are raised with chickens they will protect them. They are useful as any dog around a house at night.
